Specifications

This modern and luxurious building will be located in the heart of Manhattan, it is a residential project focused on giving value to the investment of its buyers, both in residences and in their common spaces while taking full advantage of each space. Currently, an intense lifestyle is taken, it seems that time is not enough to enjoy. Getting home and finding a balance between personal projects, staying healthy and socializing is very complicated, especially when each person has a different lifestyle. Regardless of how much space we have or the different amenities that the residential complex has, we simply do not find the balance between time and functionality.
